

ARRI Fly Track Rail Kits

Thanks to its robust functionality, ARRI's Fly Track Kit's bring high efficiency to your studio. Say goodbye to stands and a mess of cables running across the floor. With ARRI rail kits, you can utilize your studio space to its maximum potential.

Simple modular suspension solution for small to medium size studio spaces.

Kits I, II or III include:

- 2 fixed ceiling rails
- 1 or 2 moving rails.
- 2-3 friction pantographs

A variety of friction pantographs incorporate two-axis horizontal and vertical positioning design. They are integrated with pole operated rolling carriages that allow for a multitude of positions from the ground. The pantographs can then be lowered into position, to utilize pan and tilt features. After use, simply push the X-Fly pantograph up and out of the way for easy storage and maximize headroom when not in use.

Custom Designs

ARRI Systems Group also provide customized rail system designs to match your specific studio application. ARRI Rail Systems are a lightweight and versatile suspension alternative for broadcast TV, corporate, educational studios or most any production stage. Pole operation enables quick lighting design changes from the ground, thus eliminating the time and danger of climbing a ladder for positioning and focus.

User Advisory

Our Fly Track Rail Kits are installed overhead. Weight bearing and other safety considerations are vitally important. Please refer all installations to qualified professional. Any questions regarding structural integrity or safety should be referred to a structural engineer, as required by local building codes. ARRI, Inc assumes no responsibility or liability for structural integrity, safety of components, or building structure in which the Fly Track Kit is installed. It is important to insure all components listed in your Kit are accounted for, prior to assembly and installation.
